

QA Engineer

Simartis Telecom is a dynamic company created in 2004, active in the area of products & services for the Mobile Telco market. Our strategy of creating long-term value by enabling all Mobile mobile operators to successfully expand their operations using our innovative solutions. All the solutions we provide are owned by Simartis and are fully designed and developed in house.

Main Role objective

- Assess the compliance of the project deliverables, product with the specifications
- Assess the if the product is fit for the intended use, considering the specifications, user experience, any relevant IT and Telecom standards and common practices
- Communicate accurately and timely to the Product, Project Management and upper management the testing coverage, testing confidence, the severity of any known bugs in order to permit good technical and business decisions

Responsibilities

- Analyze Product / System / Project requirements, obtain clarifications where needed, acquire a good understanding of the business logic
- Participate in defining the testing approach, methodology, types of testing to ensure above objectives considering the project constraints
- Create Test Specifications for all types of agreed testing (functional, smoke regression, load, stability, etc.)
- Create automated scripts if needed with help from development
- Configure the test environment, install the product, create test data, if needed with support from development
- Execute test cases, identify nonconformities, document them according to agreed processes in issue tracking systems, check fixes when available
- Generate test reports (coverage, test results, etc.) and testing statuses (test progress, blocking points, improvements)
- Mentoring and support for junior QA colleagues, executes reviews for Test Specifications and test automation
- Know and conform to all Simartis internal policies (work safety, information confidentiality, communication policy, etc.)

Required Knowledge and Skills

- Good knowledge of testing methodologies, tools and procedures
- Fair Linux, Windows OS knowledge
- Good scripting knowledge
- Good knowledge of relational DBs
- Knowledge of the Telecom domain, with focus on the areas relevant for Simartis products
- Good communication skills, team player
- 2+ years experience in software products testing or related

What we offer?

- Competitive salary
- Private health insurance
- Bookster subscription
- Trainings for professional and personal development
- Extra vacation days according to your seniority in the company
- A team of experts that are willing to share good practices tips & tricks.
- Annual team buildings
- Open minded environment
- Flexible schedule
- Possibility of working from home
- Office location right in the heart of Bucharest close to subway and bus stations